Daylily Contest Review:

The individual flower blossom contest went well. Many people brought flowers and the judging was simple. However, few potted daylilies were brought and many people found the criteria to be confusing. So the potted contest was not one I would suggest doing again. Several people brought more than the 3 suggested maximum for the blossom contests, so I would suggest raising the allowance to 4 or 5 blossoms each. The two categories were similarly represented, and I would suggest continuing both categories for any future blossom contests.
